As [illegible] — A Warrensburg, Mo., correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says:

Recently two men knocked at the door of an old gentleman by the name of [illegible], living near Columbus, in this county, and demanded admittance. His daughter, a young lady of some eighteen years, who together with her father were the only inmates of the house, asked what they wanted. They would give no satisfaction, and she, on going to the window, saw that they were armed with guns. She told them that she would not let them in, but that if one of them would lay his gun down she would let him in, at the same time telling her father to be prepared for emergencies. After coming in he asked if there was any one else in the house except himself and daughter, and was told that there was not. He then walked back and examined the beds of the room, returned to the fire and says, "Old man, I have come here to kill you," at the same time drawing a revolver from his breast. The old man seized the pistol with one hand and threw the other around his waist, and being a strong man for his age, succeeded in holding him while his daughter ran to another part of the house, seized a corn knife, struck him a severe blow, as she thinks, on the arm holding the pistol, somewhat disabling it, and then fell to work on his head. In the meantime the old man disengaged himself, seized a sword-cane which he fortunately had, and ran the miscreant through three times with it.

By this time the villain was lustily shouting murder, and calling to his friend to let him out. His friend ran around the house to another door and burst it in, where he was met by this heroic girl, and, receiving a severe cut, was forced back, she shutting and bolting the door in his face, and putting up a curtain at the window which had fallen down, to prevent his looking in. He then fired some two or three shots at the window, which was high up, and carried the shots to the joist above. He then returned to the first door and broke that in, giving his friend a chance to escape, which he managed to do, and he being met by the girl backed out, no doubt being glad to escape with what he had already received. After this time the father and daughter, on leaving the house to go to a neighbor's, nearly a quarter of a mile off, saw the hat of their first assailant lying behind the hen-house, literally cut to pieces, and the place where he probably died—the ground being covered with blood—and also the tracks of a horse which had come and no doubt carried off the dead man.

BELLE BOYD IN DISTRESS. — Confederate sympathisers, and indeed all who have a love for adventure and courage, will probably remember that a somewhat notable character—Miss Belle Boyd—was married a short time ago in London to a gentleman, Lieutenant Harding. Almost immediately after the wedding the husband returned to his duty in the Confederate States and has since fallen into the hands of the Federal authorities, by whom he is detained a prisoner. The consequence is that Mrs. Harding is now in London almost in a state of destitution, all her supplies being cut off, and her own relations being dead. She has written a book descriptive of her adventures in the Confederate service, but has received an intimation that her husband's life depends upon its suppression. Under these circumstances an appeal is made to the public for sympathy and pecuniary assistance.—Liverpool Courier, Feb. 1st.

A little boy, about ten years of age, residing near Hopatcong Lake, Sussex county, New Jersey, suddenly disappeared a short time since, having gone out with his sled to play. Nothing was seen of him for some time, when his mother, searching after him, came across two legs, bitten off, close to the tops of a pair of boots, which were recognized as those worn by the boy. It is supposed the little fellow was devoured by a bear or panther, which is said to have been seen in that neighborhood.

Among those who have suffered sorely from Sherman's invasion of South Carolina, says the Richmond Whig, is William Gilmore Simms, the well known novelist and poet. In his hurried removal from home, near Midway, he was compelled to leave behind a library of choice books of much value, embracing upwards of $10,000 volumes. Many planters have been utterly ruined. Fortunately for Simms, he has the advantage of carrying his wealth in his brains.

Glorious News!

The war is indeed ended, and peace dawns upon our distracted country. The tidings brought to us over the wires yesterday makes us a nation of brothers again, relieves us of the horrid nightmare of civil war that has brooded over us for four terrible years, and causes the heart of every true patriot to beat for joy. It is a satisfaction to us that when we heard the word repeated on the street yesterday, that the rebel forces had surrendered, and that Davis and Lee were prisoners, the news lighted up many faces that had listened to lesser tidings unmoved; for it seemed that the certainty that war is done and peace attained, has power to move even some of the "Peace Democracy" to rejoicing. We have no desire to mar this hour of supreme national happiness with a word of partisanship, or to couple the consummation of all our hopes with a trace of party spirit. As the news went flying through the land, it roused all the patriotism of our countrymen, and caused shouts of joy to burst forth from millions of voices. It was received among us with all the emotion and jubilant feeling we could desire, and we believe that this people will celebrate the eventful few days just past, by such an overwhelming celebration as Portland never saw before and may never see again.

To-day we hold as memorable, because four years ago was the inauguration of the war. Then Sumter was assailed, and for the first time upon the soil of America, our flag was insulted by Americans. The act has been fearfully avenged. Every Southern State has been desolated by the resistless sword, and hundreds of thousands of victims have suffered for the rebellion. We do not need at this moment to recollect anything but that our nation again has peace; that all that threatened its life and honor are crushed, and that our glory as a people stands vindicated, and not only preserved, but enhanced by the multitude of sacrifices that have secured the great result.

The lesson that the hour teaches is humility. Thanksgiving and praise become us, and our hearts should feel and express that thankfulness and faith that becomes those who have been saved through great trials. The four years spent amid the struggles of fratricidal strife have not been passed unavailingly, if the problem has been solved as to the unity and perpetuity of our Nation. Henceforth our course is onward, and the hopes that every section can cherish for the future will soon scatter the clouds that shadow the past. We are filled with wonder, when we think on the terrible ordeal that has been sent upon us, and those who read of these events will never cease to feel surprise when they read the story of our times, but they can never appreciate, as do we, the gratulations of this hour.

PREMATURE.—We learn that they had a jubilee at Salem on the 4th, over the reported capture of Richmond. When our informant left, Paunchesus Bombastes had girded on his sinch, and was haranguing an admiring crowd, composed of an indiscriminate "mixture" of American citizens of African and Mongolian descent, and African citizens of American descent. Our informant says it was one of his best efforts, in his usual happy "Let 'em come, I'm ready for 'em!" style.—Eugene Review.

The above we offer our readers as a choice morceau from the Copperhead press, simply asking them if it is possible for the creature who wrote that to rejoice at the tidings of great joy we publish to-day. We think not.

GOVERNOR NO. 2 GONE.—Lewiston is again plunged into despair by the disappearance of "Smith of Smithsdale," as the Radiator calls him, the acting Governor of Idaho in the absence of Lyon of Lyonsdale. From the "to do" of the Radiator, we gather that the leave taking of Governor Smith was hurried and surreptitious. One hour they saw him and the next they did not, for he had pocketed the seal and was on his way to Boise City. At any rate, he was taken with a leaving, and the last sight of Capitol went with him, or we judge so, from the exaggerated story of misplaced confidence we read in the Radiator.

BROWNSVILLE FACTORY.—We learn from a correspondent at Brownsville that the Woolen Factory lately destroyed by fire is to be immediately rebuilt and set in operation as soon as the machinery can be brought out from the States. The capital is already subscribed. We are glad to hear this, as the Brownsville factory was a most useful enterprise for the people up the valley.

BODY FOUND.—On Sunday, says the Dalles Mountaineer, the body of a man was taken out of the water near the steamboat landing at this place. The body showed three or four gunshot wounds and half a dozen knife wounds, besides having been scalped. Some identified the body as that of an Indian called "Cultus Joe," who disappeared from Tumwater about a month ago.

WOUNDED AT FORT FISHER.—Lieutenant Lamson, of Yamhill county, was in the second attack on Fort Fisher, led one of the attacking parties from the fleet and was severely wounded, though not dangerously.

The Linn County School Superintendent reports to the Journal that there are in Linn county, legal voters, 1,481; persons over four and under twenty years of age, 3,223; school districts, 51; school fund, $5,560.

Letter from the Dalles.

DALLES, April 7, 1865.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The stage from Canyon City arrived this afternoon three and a half days from Canyon City. A difficulty had taken place, in which it is asserted that Howard was killed and two others badly wounded by pistol shots. No particulars.

The Indians have again commenced their depredation. A few days since they drove off a pack train near the mouth of Cottonwood, taking sixteen animals in the night. They were followed and fourteen animals were recovered. Last Sunday they came in to the ranch at Cottonwood and drove off all the stock they could stampede in broad daylight. The few persons there saw them and fired several pistol shots at them. Fears are entertained that they will become so bold as to attempt to expel the settlers on the route, and effectually close all commercial travel on the road.

The roads are improving fast, though they are horrible over the mountains—the frost coming out, and the snow melting making it impassable for heavy freight teams, and nearly so for light wagons. The stage will endeavor to run through this trip without changing to a saddle train as heretofore this winter. The company send out their stage to-morrow morning and are making the time inside of four days, leaving every fourth day, making the next departure on Wednesday morning. They intend running three times a week as soon as the roads are sufficiently improved and their stock can be placed at proper stations.

Torch light procession to-night and most of the business houses illuminated in honor of the capture of Richmond, and speeches made by Judge Wood and several others of our citizens to the masses in the streets. Near $1,000 raised for the Christian Commission by the committee of ladies, who have canvassed the city for that purpose. M.

Wagons are placed across the approach to the bridge, and it will take time to clear it. The enemy is in position on the heights beyond with artillery. The bridge is partially destroyed, and the approaches are of soft boggy mud, and we cannot advance to-morrow in the same manner we have to-day. As soon as I get my troops up a little way, I may push a strong column down the road.

Further from Richmond.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Richmond letters say that previous to the surrender of the city the Mayor ordered all liquors to be destroyed, and as a consequence the rebel rear guard became utterly ungovernable. A terrible scene of pillage and ruin ensued. Stores were plundered and the whole city was in a tumult of riot. Great damage was also done by the explosion of one of the rebel magazines. Among the victims of the explosion were all the inmates of the alms house. The damage done by the fire was enormous. That portion of the city bounded by Main street and the river and 7th, 16th and 14th streets, was destroyed. The flames were finally arrested by blowing up the Negro Traders' Bank building, by order of Gen. Shepley.

The negro troops were treated by the population in the most extravagant manner.

The Richmond Whig was issued on April 4th—the former editor having given pledges of hearty support to the Union cause.

The work of removing the obstructions from the James river is progressing rapidly. It is believed that some of our smaller vessels will be able to go to Richmond this week.

The prisoners who arrived at City Point number 11,500.

Careful estimates of Lee's killed and wounded, reach 10,000 to 12,000. It is believed he cannot have to exceed 30,000 men left.

The Commercial's special dispatch says: The work of repairing the railroad from Washington to Richmond is rapidly progressing, and it will be ready within a short time.

The Post's special dispatch says: Hancock is on the war path, in the direction of the Shenandoah Valley.

Report of Gen. Wright—his Battles with Lee.

MEADE'S HEADQUARTERS, April 6th.—To Grant: At daylight this morning, I moved the 2d, 5th and 6th corps along the railroad in the direction of Amelia Court House. After moving toward Farmingville, the 2d and 6th corps was changed from northerly to the north-west direction, the 2d corps moving on Danville, and the 5th corps heretofore in the center, moving on Deaconville. The 6th corps moving by the left flank took position on the left of the second. It was understood the operations would be on the extreme left. The changes were promptly made, and the corps soon became engaged with the enemy's rear at Deaconville, driving him by the right across Sailor's creek to the Appomattox. The 6th corps made a long march, but its position prevented its striking the enemy's column before the latter had passed. Encountering with the 2d corps on the right, and the cavalry on the left, attacked and routed the enemy, capturing many prisoners, among whom are Generals Ewell and Custis Lee.

I transmit dispatches from Humphreys and Wright which in justice to these distinguished officers and the gallant corps they command, I beg they may be sent to the Department for immediate publication. It is impossible at this time to give any estimate of the casualties on either side or the number of prisoners taken. It is evident to-day's work is going to be the most important of the recent brilliant operations. The pursuit is to be continued as soon as the men have some rest. Griffin with the Fifth Corps, will be moved by the left. Wright and Humphreys will be continued in the direct pursuit as long as it promises success.

(Signed) MEADE.

HEADQUARTERS, Second Corps, April 6.—In pursuance of the instructions of the [illegible] Gen. Meade, I moved from Jennings' by the shortest practicable road to the left of Deaconville, with the object of the [illegible] of the position on the left of the Second Corps, taking the road running from Deaconville to Burke's Station. At a point a little to the north-west of the Church, I found the Second Corps engaged in the front and right, and the cavalry [illegible] moving down the road towards Burke's, [illegible] ceeded across toward and parallel to the road which the enemy was moving upon, on which he had thrown up a line of intrenchments. As soon as the leading division, Gen. Seymour's, could be formed it was moved up to the road [illegible] the enemy, which was [illegible] to the left, it was at once [illegible] against [illegible] strong resistance. [illegible] division was put in [illegible] on Seymour's left. [illegible] and were swept down the road for a distance of about two miles.

But the people were blinded and refused to believe the movement meant evacuation, as all declared that the measures were only precautionary. On Sunday morning, the 2d, the gold and silver coin belonging to the Louisiana Banks, and recently appropriated by the Confederate Congress, was sent down to Danville and also specie of the Richmond Banks.

Their programme, for the departure of the officers was arranged. A number of them were to leave during the night. Still there was not room enough for all who thought to get away. Davis left at 7 P. M.; Breckinridge, on horseback, with the last of the army, on Monday; Gov. Smith ran off during the night.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Post's special says: There is no doubt that Hunter and Campbell remained in Richmond to see what could be done about peace. The President is probably soon to issue another amnesty proclamation.

The Richmond Whig says: Gov. Smith made a speech on Sunday, saying the rebel troops were victorious and Richmond should not be evacuated, and then got on horseback.

A large number of rebel prisoners arrived at Washington this morning, taking the oath of allegiance.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A Richmond letter of the 6th says: The new state of affairs in the city gives general satisfaction to the rebels who seem to show their goodness, and tender every attention and information to our soldiers, and on the soldiers' part, they are kind and courteous, thus giving the lie to the false reports of the rebel papers.

FOURTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BOMBARDMENT OF FORT SUMTER.—Yesterday, four years ago, two of the aids of Gen. Beauregard, who had invested Fort Sumter in Charleston harbor, conveyed a formal demand to Major Anderson, (in command of the United States troops, concentrated in that work,) to evacuate the Fort and turn it over to the authorities of South Carolina. Major Anderson replied that evening, and refused, [illegible] his sense of honor and his obligations to his Government would prevent his compliance. The aids went [illegible] and at one hour after midnight the same night another deputation was sent, demanding the exact time [illegible] of the Fort at once, or stating the time when he would do so. Major Anderson replied that if not supplied with provisions, or otherwise ordered, he would evacuate the Fort on the 15th. At half past three he was notified that the Fort would be bombarded in one hour, and at half past four o'clock in the morning Fort Moultrie opened upon the work, followed by the newly erected [illegible] batteries in the harbor, and the floating battery. At seven o'clock Fort Sumter replied, attacking all the [illegible] works simultaneously. The firing was kept up with great vigor on both sides, and the woodwork of Sumter was three times set on fire. At [illegible], the firing from the Fort ceased for the night, but the rebel troops continued [illegible] at intervals of twenty minutes, during the entire night. On the morning of the 13th, at daylight, the rebels re-opened their fire in force, which was replied to at [illegible] by Major Anderson. At 8 A. M. the officers' quarters in the Fort took fire, from a shell. At 10 A. M. [illegible] the flag staff was cut by a shell, and the stars and stripes came down half way. At five minutes [illegible] the garrison capitulated, and were to be allowed to leave the Fort with honors of war, saluting the colors, taking away the flag of the Fort, and company arms and property, and all private property, and granted proper facilities for a safe removal to a United States port. Thus ended the bombardment of Fort Sumter. Our readers have been apprised before this of the return of that same old Flag to the same old Fort; and this being the anniversary of the bombardment, we have only to refer to the dispatches to show the feeling, that naturally arises in the heart of every patriot and citizen of the State, to cause a general burst of enthusiasm at the thought that the rebellion began and was ended in four years. The bells of this city, and every private "south piece" within the limits of the corporation, are [illegible] exclamations of heart-felt gratitude. In accordance with a call of Mayor Failing, a large body of our citizens assembled last evening at the corner of Front and Washington streets, to make arrangements for a general celebration to-day. A Committee consisting of sixteen citizens, Messrs. H. W. Corbett, Henry D. Green, Joseph [illegible], E. J. Northrup, Wm. F. Wilcox, Wm. S. Ladd, Jacob Mayer, Jacob Stitzel, Wm. Braden, Henry [illegible], William S. Caldwell, Col. John McCraken, [illegible], S. J. McCormick, A. M. Starr, L. H. Wakefield, [illegible], were appointed to prepare a programme, etc. [illegible] then made a soul-stirring speech, from the [illegible] of the Oregonian Block, which ended in three cheers for the Stars and Stripes. Dr. Watkins [illegible] a few brief remarks, at the close of which the [illegible] ed, and [illegible] MET AT THE COUNCIL CHAMBER.

[illegible] H. W. Corbett was chosen Chairman, and Mr. E. J. Northrup appointed Secretary. The following sub-committees were then appointed:
On Finance—First Ward, H. D. Green, A. [illegible]; Second Ward, H. Wasserman, L. H. Wakefield; Third Ward, Jacob Stitzel, E. J. Northrup.
On Music—H. W. Corbett, W. S. Ladd.
On Salutes—S. J. McCormick, Wm. Braden, [illegible] Wilcox.
On Torches, etc.—Sherry Ross, A. B. Stuart, J. [illegible]

Colonel John McCraken was elected Grand Marshal.

A committee appointed to draft an address, presented the following request to the citizens, asking everybody to join in the TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION.

The [illegible] Committee of Arrangements, urgently request all good citizens to aid in the proper celebration of the glorious events now transpiring. Lee's rebel army has surrendered; Jeff. Davis, the so called President of the now defunct Confederacy, has been [illegible]. Our gallant army, under its unequalled [illegible], has brought the rebellion to a close, and the Angel of Peace, we trust, ere long, will again hover over our [illegible] country. Is it not due to our country, our gallant army, our State, city, and each individual citizen, to join in manifesting their joy and appreciation of our present happy prospects!

The [illegible] would recommend that all join in a grand torch-light procession; and those living along the line of march, as published, illuminate their dwellings and places of business. Each person is requested to furnish himself with a torch, and fall into line with promptness, at the time and place appointed. In order that due preparation may be made, the Committee would also request that all places of business be closed at 2 P. M.

Signed by the Committee:

ORDER OF EXERCISES.

National Salute at 12 o'clock M.; Salute of 100 guns at [illegible] P. M., on the Plaza. Ringing of bells at 7½ P. M. [illegible] will form at 7¼ P. M. on First street, right resting on Stark; march down First street to Pine; down Pine to Front; down Front to E; returning up Front to [illegible]; up Salmon to First; down First to Pine; up Pine to Third; up Third to the Plaza, where the speakers of the [illegible] will address the citizens.

The citizens of this and adjoining counties are invited to [illegible] in the exercises of the day, also, the citizens of Vancouver and Clarke county, W. T.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—In the case of the United States vs. the steamer Pacific—seizure, for violation of the revenue laws, in unloading four trunks of opium in the night time, without a permit, the same not being on the ship's manifest, the owners of the vessel, the California [illegible] Navigation Company, filed a petition in Court [illegible] the cause of forfeiture as alleged in the libel, and pray that the Judge will make an inquiry into the facts and circumstances connected with the forfeiture, and cause them to be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, to the end that he might mitigate or remit the forfeiture upon such terms and conditions as may be just and proper, if it shall appear to the Secretary that the same was incurred without wilful negligence or intention to commit fraud. Monday last was occupied in hearing the testimony on the petition. At the same time the evidence was taken upon the charge against Albert Dyer the freight clerk, and Melville Erskine the first mate of the Pacific, that they had smuggled or clandestinely introduced these four trunks of opium into the United States. [illegible] morning the matter as to Dyer and Erskine was argued, and the Judge finding that the offense had been committed, and that there was probable cause to believe these parties guilty of its commission, ordered them [illegible] to await the action of the grand jury, at the next term of Court, the first Monday in July, and fixed their bail at $5,000 each. The penalty for the offense is a fine exceeding $5,000, and imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both. The District Attorney has also brought a civil action against A. M. Burns, the Master of the Pacific, to recover a penalty equal to the alleged value of the [illegible] opium, $10,000, for not having the same upon his manifest. The defendant was arrested and gave bail. We understand that on Saturday morning next, counsel will submit arguments upon the testimony in addition to the remission of the forfeiture of the ship.

[illegible].—By mail from Astoria last evening we are in receipt of the Marine Gazette of the 11th, which contains the intelligence of the downfall of Richmond, and the capture of Petersburg, being from dispatches to the [illegible], furnished by Capt. Ketchum of the schooner Alfred Crosby. Upon the arrival of the steamer Pacific there this morning, and the bark Almatia this evening, Astorians will have some further news. The town election, held on Tuesday the 4th inst., resulted in the election of John Pike, John Hobson, C. L. Parker, Henry Miller and Jacob Coe; Charles Stevens Recorder; A. Montgomery; Conrad Boelling Treasurer; Henry S. Aiken Street Commissioner. The shipment of a choice lot of furs direct to New York, by Messrs. Spedden & Brown, is noticed by the Gazette as "a move in the right direction."

[illegible].—Yesterday on receipt of the glorious news, there was a general outburst of enthusiastic joy. Men cheered then who never cheered before. Faces habitually grave, were lighted with an expression of half-[illegible] delight. Old men vied with the young in giving utterance to their emotions, and seriousness joined with mirth in the universal effort to give expression to the general joy. "Peace" was on the lips of all. All feel the [illegible] that the white winged angel, that has so long been absent, is again, indeed, very near. Patriotic hopes, long deferred, are now fully realized. Rejoice as extravagantly as we will, there can be no excess of joy.

EXPORTS OF SYRUP AND LIQUORS.—By referring to our marine report this morning, it will be seen that Portland has "shipping port" for syrup and liquors. We always supposed that "Starr's Whiskies" were worth more than any brandy we had imported, but, was not aware that [illegible] was becoming an article for outward cargoes. The syrups, it is plain to be seen, are destined for the southern coast, where the Lower Californians have a gift of making a good article of rum from it.

ESCAPE OF BROCKIE JACK.—The notorious highwayman, [illegible], alias "Brockie Jack," has made his escape from the officers at King's, sixteen miles below Lewiston, says the Mountaineer of yesterday, and up to the present time, no traces of him have been found. The particulars of the escape are not given, but it is very easy to suppose that such an event, with such a desperado, is the result of culpable neglect.

SHOAL BAY OYSTERS.—Captain Hillyer, of the schooner Leah, now laying at Couch's wharf, has about the finest lot of Oysters on board that ever came to the city—large, [illegible] flavored, thick shelled, solid Oysters, from Shoal Bay. There is a good opportunity now afforded for families, hotels, and saloons to replenish the larder with these bivalves. We recommend the stock, after a very hasty inspection.

A WORD BY WAY OF CAUTION.—It is suggested by Chief Engineer Bechtel, (and we think with great propriety,) that a word of caution might be spoken to those intending to illuminate to-night, that they observe great care to avoid conflagration. All candles in windows, etc., should be carefully extinguished at the close of the exercises.

AN IMPROMPTU ARRANGEMENT.—There were numerous gongs, bells and steam whistles making a noise in the city yesterday, but none were louder in the joyous peal than the cannon, manufactured by the workmen at the Oregon Iron Works, and fired one hundred times by them, [illegible] after the receipt of the intelligence at [illegible].

MILITARY.—Lieut. Cullen paid us a visit last evening. He has been quartered at Fort Hoskins, but the Company to which he is attached was lately ordered to Fort Dalles, and may be expected to pass this city to-day on the route up the Columbia.

Hung be the heavens with black; suspended be the music of the spheres," we are tempted to say, in sadness of spirit, when we reflect how many thousands of our brightest and best are yearly consigned to the cold grave by that fell scourge—Consumption. What adds to the poignancy of our grief is the reflection, that most of these victims might have been saved by a timely use of that most efficacious of all PULMONARY REMEDIES, "Newell's Pulmonary Syrup."

Soothing and Bracing.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as
DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.
Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere. m12

Brandreth's Pills—Their Qualities.—In small and repeated doses the effect of Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills is to increase the activity of the secreting and excreting organs. The alvine discharged becomes more liquid and contains a larger proportion of bile. The operation of this extraordinary medicine does not stop here; the membranes of the lungs, of the eyes, and all the membranes become moister; the skin becomes dampened and at the same time warmer where too cool, and cooler if too warm. So that Brandreth's Pills seem to vitalize and promote excretions generally. In large doses, say from five to ten Pills, they act as a powerful purgative, clearing the bowels first of their contents, and then acting upon the internal organs, cleansing them of slime, mucus, or any concretions not required for their healthy action. Thus the action of Brandreth's Pills is what is required to bring about that state in all the organs which result in their full restoration to health. The blood vessels, as well as the blood, are thus restored to perfect purity and vigor.

WISTAR'S BALSAM
—OF—
WILD CHERRY!
HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY HALF A CENTURY,
WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING
Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat,
Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup,
Liver Complaint, Bronchitis,
Difficulty of Breathing,
Asthma, and every affection of the
THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST, INCLUDING EVEN CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequaled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

S. H. FINLEY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. BOYDEN, M. D., Exeter, Me.
ALEXANDER HATCH, M. D., China, Me.
R. FELLOWS, M. D., Hill, N. H.
W. H. WEBB, M. D., Cape Vincent, N. Y.
W. B. LYNCH, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Boundbrook, N. J.
H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of WISTAR'S BALSAM have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS.

After October 1, 1863, all genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY for the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new wrapper which will bear the printed names of both SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as fac-simile of the signatures of "I. BUTTS," "SANFORD & PARK," and "H. WISTAR, M. D."

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.
NEWELL'S
PULMONARY SYRUP
HAS CURED THOUSANDS!
And it will Cure You!

"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences, as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption.—Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAT COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supercede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but

Pulmonary Syrup!

Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice, kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance."

He Had a Cold!

Which, by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not

NEWELL'S
PULMONARY SYRUP.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a cold, and you will think and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

Written for the Oregonian.

At Charleston.

BY MINNIE MYRTLE MILLER.

"The Cities of the South shall be shut up, and none shall open them."

"Lift up your eyes and behold them that come from the North; where is the flock that was given thee—thy beautiful flock?"

"Shall iron break the Northern iron and the steel?"—Bible.

Gay South Carolina gave a ball,
And Beauregard issued the call,
(Called, I think, "Fort Sumter's fall")
Inviting down the Northmen all
To take a dance at Charleston.

They went—a host—with fife to toot
And took a gun or two to shoot,
And took a change of clothes to boot
To stay awhile if it should suit,
And see the sport at Charleston.

The Devil played, and Parrotts called
And petards screamed and mortars mauled,
And Dixie-doodle bowed and bawled
And Davis took his snuff and drawled
"Splendid" what a ball at Charleston!"

At last a man of some renown,
Well skilled in balls, came into town—
You should have seen him wear the frown,
That made the tr[ip]le bars go down
For aye and aye at Charleston!

* * * * * * *

And so Secession downward broke,
O, iron souls and hearts of oak!
No mortar's scream or Parrott's croak
Are belching out their furious smoke
In goblin deeds at Charleston.

What though they marched a million strong!
What though their ghosts—a fearful throng—
Now beckon from the plains along!
Bewail them not—you do them wrong—
The ball is done at Charleston.

Though dead lie strewn from sea to sea,
They murmured not; then why should we?
They sleep beneath their flag, you see—
The Flag that floats o'er you and me—
The Flag that floats o'er Charleston!

Canyon City, April, 1865.

Grant in the Capitol.—The Washington correspondent of the Rochester Democrat thus describes the scene excited by the presence of Lieutenant General Grant in the National Capitol:

The General has been upon the floor of each house of Congress during the day. The Senate received him in a very quiet and dignified manner, as it always receives visitors.

When he passed from the Senate to the House, a great crowd gathered around him in the rotunda. In it were perhaps twenty persons belonging to the army, several of them being officers. To these he simply bowed. For a tall old soldier, gray of hair and rugged of features and firm of eye, who hobbled about on one crutch, having a wound in the foot, there was something more. The General saw him, stepped toward him, and to the amazement of the old soldier held out his hand. Quick as he could he got off his cap and took the proffered hand, while the other soldier shouted "Hurrah for the General!" "How are you my man?" said Gen. Grant. "I fought under you at Donuelson and at Vicksburg and I went through it all and didn't get hit till about a month ago down here by Petersburg. I shall be all right again, sir, pretty soon." "I'm glad to hear it, I'm glad to hear it," said the General as he gave his rough hand another hearty shake and passed on. It was worth something to see that sight.

The House received the General in right hearty fashion—more hearty, even, than is its wont, which is never cold or tame. Mr. Odell took him in, and as soon as he was discovered, Mr. Mallory moved a ten minutes' recess, which was carried as much by the "aye" of the galleries as of the members. When the members began to crowd around him, the galleries again caught up the spirit of the moment and broke out in most hearty clapping of hands—repeating the demonstration thrice. When the recess expired and the house was called to order, General Schenck made the motion never before made for any person—that the House invite the Lieutenant-General into the Speaker's desk. Of course it was carried with a shout. He didn't want to go, but Odell and Schenck took no refusal, and speaker Colfax had the rare gratification of saying—"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I present you the hero of our armies in the field—Lieutenant-General Grant." It was worth something to see the scene too—the crowded floor and galleries standing to receive him with heartiest applause, during which he, bronzed as he is, blushingly bowed his thanks and descended to Mr. Washburne's chair—where he sat for half an hour.

How They Bury Dead Soldiers.—There is, of course, no parade made in the putting away of our dead, but everything is done "decently and in order." A plain coffin is procured, and the deceased placed in it, prepared as decently for his eternal sleep as his habiliments will allow. In the coffin with him is put a bottle, and tightly corked; within it is a scrap of paper telling his name, rank, company and regiment, and date and cause of death. Every division hospital has its plat of ground for burial purposes, and in this the worn-out soldier is put to rest. The ceremony is always simple, always brief, but always touching, for around the grave are always gathered some few friends, and no matter how few, to them is read by the chaplain some of those terse passages which make up the Great Book. For them, and for him who is gone, a prayer is said, and then the earth reverently takes him to her bosom.

The practice of burying with the deceased the bottle containing information priceless to his surviving friends has grown into habitual usage at the Third Division (Fifth Corps) hospital, presided over by Dr. Reamer, and is fast becoming universal in the army. In addition to this precaution, a headboard is always placed at the grave, giving the same facts; and a recent excellent order from General Meade has prescribed the minutiæ of burial, all the provisions tending to inculcate respect for the dead and consideration for the survivors, by giving the latter every possible facility for future identification.—Army of the Potomac Letter.

Our Naval Power Abroad.—The New York Herald of a recent date has the following:

It has been pretty distinctly intimated lately that we are to have a more decided exhibition of our naval power in foreign waters; that our Pacific, Mediterranean and other foreign squadrons were to be increased by some of the larger ships of our navy, and that an Admiral was to overlook our martime interests in Europe. This is a good idea, and should be carried out without delay. Now that the Southern ports are really closed, the vessels absolutely necessary here are the smaller ones of our navy, the light draught and wieldy vessels, that can maneuver and be useful in the rivers. Thus we can, without detriment to home interests, add to our foreign squadron the Wabash, Colorado and all similar ships. By this means we could, even while in the fierce grapple with the rebellion, give convincing evidence to the outer world of our real naval power. The effect of this would be good. These stronger foreign fleets could look after our national interests properly, and there could be no more Alabamas or Floridas afloat; and, moreover, such an establishment would have a good influence upon the navy itself, as it would certainly always be a practical school to keep officers and men efficient and fully up to their duties.

The Black Flag Rampant.—A paragraph in a Macon (Ga.) newspaper, quotes: "Cabbage, $15 per head; cucumbers, $10 each; a bunch of six fish, $20." And in the very same breath says —"A disgraceful affair is now going on up town. A mob of women with a black flag are marching from store to store on a pillaging expedition. The Pelham Cadets are ordered out to disperse them. What is that which somebody said was superfluous?"

"My dear Ellen," said Mr. Softfellow to a young lady whose smiles he was seeking, "I have long wished for this opportunity, but I hardly dare trust myself now to speak the deep emotions of my palpitating heart; but I declare to you, my dearest Ellen, that I love you most tenderly; your smiles would shed—would shed—" "Never mind the woodshed," said Ellen, "go on with that pretty talk."

Business and Poetry.—A Connecticut poet burst into public inquiry and asked, "What mean these mystic sounds?" A Norwich editor replied that he couldn't answer positively, but it was the impression in Mystic that the sounds came from the boiler shop and meant business.

A Great Truth.—The Washington Chronicle announces the great truth, that the prosperity of the republic will be boundless when its great men will refrain from making it the theater of their jealousies and selfish aggrandizement.

Two young ladies sat cosily by a comfortable fire. The married one says: "Whenever I want a nice snug fire, all to myself, I tell George my mother is coming, and then I see nothing of him until one o'clock in the morning."—Punch.

"Mary," asked Charles, "what animal dropped from the clouds?" "The rain, dear," was the whispered reply.

Motto—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machines the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making, like them, the interlocked stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED

In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 218 Battery Street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR; WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "So glory" of the "Lillie Lock." We are aware that you are well understand this lock, and of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

Respectfully etc.,
A. E. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL

Lock Picker or Thimble Rigger

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed:) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, Gravel, Dropsical Swellings, GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION;
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the Procreative Functions. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest, and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus. CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD, heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
